Roanoke Grand Jury Investigat ing Alleged Graft Returns Indictment.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch,) Rosnoke, Va., March 22.—The special grand jury, which has been investigating the alleged graft in police and municipal circles, to-day returned an indictment against J. J. Morgan, charging him with perjury when a witness before the grand jury. He was arrested on a capias and bailed. The text of the indictment brought against. Morgan clearly defines the line of investigation which is being conducted by the jury, and bears out the rumors which have been afloat for a long time to the effect that graft has been practiced here in matters of giving gamblers and others protection from arrest and interference by the police.

Morgan was arrested a month or so ago, charged with conducting a gambling house. Jackson Wise was arrested at the same time, and Wise pleaded guilty to conducting the place, and denying that Morgan had any interest in it. Wise paid a $50 fine, while Morgan was discharged.

Judging from the nature of the Morarrested on a capias and bailed. The Morgan was discharged.

Judging from the nature of the Morgan indictment, it is certain that the grand jury will endeavor to locate the persons who received the "protection money," and should they be successful in this attempt it is safe to say that some interesting developments will follow.
